HYMS Cardiology Society: Career in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Heart to Heart with Mr Ngaage

The Hull York Medical School Cardiology Society is a society for those interested in a career in Cardiology or Cardiothoracic Surgery. It is an active society that hosts a series of lectures from guest speakers, workshops, and hands-on teaching and practical sessions.

Following the success of the first cardiology careers talk, HYMS Cardiology Society and Hull Surgical Society were pleased to announce their second talk, 'Career in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Heart to Heart with Mr Ngaage'.

This event focused on what a career in Cardiothoracic Surgery entails and the steps required to get there. Anyone was welcome to attend, including those who were unsure of what they wanted to do in the future.

Refreshments and a certificate of attendance were provided to those who attended. This talk was especially beneficial to medical students who were looking to create or expand upon their portfolio.

This talk was video-linked to all peripheral sites including York Hospital (Conference Room), Grimsby (Consulting Room 1), Scunthorpe and Scarborough (Clinical Skills Lab). The video link was accessible via Virtual Room 1000.

Individual Comments

I received a decent overview of what it would be like to work in that field and a realistic impression of what I'd have to do to succeed.

It was very good.

This was a very interesting and motivating talk.

EB

Hull York Medical School, Hull, United Kingdom

I think it was well organised and relevant to my studies as I was covering the thoracic cavity and the heart at that time.

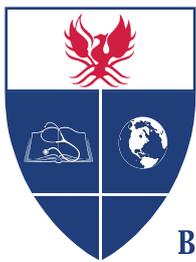

EM

Hull York Medical School, Hull, United Kingdom

There was a friendly and open atmosphere in which I learnt a lot. The presentation was very informative, and the speaker was excellent. The Cardiology Society members did well in organising it. My only complaint was that the venue was too small so there was not much space for everyone to sit, however, this was quickly resolved.
