ICSM Paediatrics Society Annual Conference - A Changing Speciality: Future Directions and New Challenges

ICSM Paediatrics Society's Annual Conference returned in 2020 with a new theme - A Changing Speciality: Future Directions and New Challenges.

With a day full of workshops and talks focusing on how the speciality is evolving, the conference considered ways of adapting to meet the emerging needs of the population and the exciting technological advances and their associated ethical challenges.

This event was open to all university students and healthcare professionals, including those with an interest in Paediatrics. There was an opportunity for delegates to share their Paediatric research projects during a designated poster presentation session. Lunch and certificates of attendance for delegates' portfolios were provided to all attending delegates.
