

MRCP PACES Preparation Course

3rd and 4th January 2026
Online via Zoom

Faculty List

Dr R Mathialagan, MBBS, FRCP (London), FRCP (Edinburgh)

Dr Mathialagan is a Senior Consultant Physician and Gastroenterologist at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, King's Lynn, Norfolk, with over 30 years of experience in the NHS. He has held several senior educational appointments, including Clinical Sub-Dean for the University of Cambridge and Director of Medical Education and Training. For over two decades, he has been deeply involved with the MRCP(UK) PACES examination as a host, chair, and examiner both nationally and internationally. His contributions to the development of the COVID-19 adapted PACES provided valuable insights into virtual assessment and training in communication and consultation skills. A passionate educator, he continues to mentor and inspire the next generation of physicians with unwavering commitment to excellence in medical education.

Dr Rajesh Rajakunjaram, MBBS (India), MRCP (UK), FRCP (London)

Dr Rajesh Rajakunjaram, Consultant Stroke Physician and Service Director at Norfolk and Norwich University Hospital, is an experienced clinician and educator with training in both India and the UK. He has served as a UK and international PACES examiner, contributing extensively to postgraduate medical training. Dr Rajakunjaram is widely recognised for his clear, structured teaching approach and emphasis on clinical reasoning. He has mentored numerous students and junior doctors, focusing on building confidence and exam readiness. His dedication to high-quality education and trainee development continues to make him an influential figure in MRCP preparation.

Dr K Ranjadayalan, MBBS, MD (Sri Lanka), FRCP (Edinburgh), FRCP (London), MPhil (London)

Dr K Ranjadayalan is a Consultant Cardiologist and Physician at Newham University Hospital (Bart's Health) with over three decades of experience in the NHS. He holds multiple postgraduate qualifications, including FRCP(Edin), FRCP(Lond), and MPhil(Lond). As a PACES examiner for over 25 years, he is renowned for his clinical insight, precision, and passion for teaching. His excellence in education has been recognised with several student-nominated awards from Queen Mary University of London. Dr Ranjadayalan's enduring dedication, approachability, and expertise have been integral to the success and continuity of postgraduate medical training initiatives.

Professor Raj K Rajakulasingam, MBBS, FRCP (London), FRCP (Edinburgh)

Professor Raj K Rajakulasingam is a Senior Consultant in Respiratory Medicine and Allergy and an Honorary Clinical Professor at Queen Mary University of London. With over 40 years of experience, he combines extensive clinical practice with a strong academic portfolio in respiratory medicine and medical education. He has held numerous senior educational roles within the NHS and higher education institutions, contributing significantly to undergraduate and postgraduate training. As a PACES examiner for more than 25 years, he brings a wealth of experience in both clinical assessment and mentorship. His academic leadership and commitment to medical education have earned him recognition as a respected teacher and clinician.

Dr Gurbilas P. Singh, MBBS, MRCP (UK), FRCP (London)

Dr Gurbilas P. Singh is a UK-trained Consultant Gastroenterologist with extensive experience in clinical medicine and postgraduate education. He has served as Host and Co-Host for the MRCP(UK) PACES examination and remains actively engaged in mentoring trainees. As Director of Education and Training at Sarvhit Gastrocity, India, he leads structured educational programmes to enhance clinical skills and professional development. He is also the Convener of GI Rendezvous, promoting academic collaboration and awareness in liver and gastrointestinal health. In addition, Dr Singh contributes to the educational board of Doctors Academy (UK), where he supports international teaching and mentorship initiatives.