III. Programme and Contents

Structure of the Course:

There is always the possibility of a lecture or demonstration using the cadaver over-running the time and thus some flexibility may be necessary in the programme. However, due to the wide range of topics that will be covered during the course, we will adhere to a strict time-schedule. We will endeavour to stick to the session times (i.e., morning and afternoon) and hence all breaks, and start and finish times, will be followed as per programme that will be provided on the day.

Programme:

To view the programme for the day, kindly follow this link:
<https://doctorsacademy.org.uk/coursenw/eoc/PGM19.pdf>

Course Format/Content:

This course will provide you with the opportunity to perform selected common general surgical emergency operations on unembalmed freeze-preserved cadavers under the direct supervision of Consultant Surgeons. With a high tutor-to-participant ratio, this practical 'hands-on' course will be delivered in small groups using a series of tutor demonstrations where participants will undertake various general surgical emergency operations on cadavers, simulating clinical practice.

What to Prepare:

Kindly read-up about the following procedures to ensure you achieve maximum benefit from the course. You should read about the indications, contraindications, risks, benefits and operative steps for each procedure.

- Laparotomy

Some guidance on:

(i) Travel: http://doctorsacademy.org/Course/CCUMIC/downloads/Travelling_to_Cardiff14.pdf

(ii) Accommodation:

If you have not already booked your accommodation, you may consider the options below. The University is about 6-8-minute walk from the city centre. Cardiff Bay is quite far from the venue and we would hence suggest you not to book your accommodation in Cardiff Bay (unless you wish to stay there due to other reasons). We recommend a few accommodations nearby:

1. The cheapest option might be:

Travelodge in City Centre, Cardiff:

<http://www.travelodge.co.uk/hotels/81/Cardiff-Central-hotel>

Travelodge in Whitchurch, Cardiff:

<http://www.travelodge.co.uk/hotels/450/Cardiff-Whitchurch-hotel>

Both of these hotels are quite close to the University. However, the one in the city centre can be busy during the evenings/night and you may get disturbed. Thus, the one in Whitchurch might be better. It will cost about £7-£8 by taxi to the University.

2. There is also a Holiday Inn which is not too far from the venue:

<http://www.holidayinn.com/hotels/us/en/cardiff/cdfcy/hoteldetail>

3. A more exquisite but pricier hotel is as below:

Mercure Cardiff Centre Hotel
Wharf Road East
Tyndall Street
Cardiff
CF10 4BB

This hotel is a short taxi drive from the University.
