Paediatrics for Finals: An Intensive Revision Session

Feedback - May 2021

Paediatrics for Finals: An Intensive Revision Session

This revision session focused on the common paediatric conditions that are tested in the medical school final exam. It covered respiratory conditions, developmental conditions, genetics, neurology, haematology, oncology and surgical infections. The session included an interactive question-and-answer format, highlighting the high-yield and most essential topics within each section.

The revision session was delivered by Dr M Dandapani, who is a Consultant Paediatric Oncologist at the Queen's Medical Centre, Nottingham and Clinical Associate Professor at the University of Nottingham. She is a widely acclaimed academic paediatrician who provides teaching for medical students and junior doctors on a regular basis.
